teachwise

Teachwise Hybrid · For schools

Information for partner schools

Schools do not always need another full-time teacher to give students access to a subject or programme. Teachwise works with schools to bring experienced teachers into the classroom through live online lessons.

Joshua Howarth, Co-founder
joshua.h@teachwisetutoring.co.uk
WhatsApp +44 7506 183632

THE MODEL

How a hybrid lesson works

Students learn together at school while the Teachwise teacher leads the lesson, asks questions and responds to the group in real time.

In school

Students learn together

Students are together in their school classroom.

Live online

A Teachwise teacher teaches

A Teachwise teacher teaches them live online, leading the lesson in real time.

In the room

An adult from your school supports

An adult from the school supports students in the room.

WHEN IT HELPS

When a partnership can help

- Student numbers do not justify a full timetable
- A specialist is difficult to recruit
- You want to explore a new subject or programme

AGREED TOGETHER

Your school stays involved

Every school has its own curriculum, calendar, students and way of working. We start with those details before proposing a programme, and agree the learning aims, classroom arrangements, communication and review points together.

SUBJECTS & ENRICHMENT

Give students access to more

Academic subjects

Specialist teaching in subjects such as these, according to the school's curriculum and teacher availability.

Chemistry · Physics · Computer Science · Theory of Knowledge

Enrichment

Programmes that give students opportunities to develop ideas, communicate clearly and try something new.

Debating · Public speaking · Creative writing · Entrepreneurship

Flexible format

A weekly course, a short pilot, a focused small group or a programme connected to existing learning. We begin with what you want students to gain and build the programme from there.

HOW THE HYBRID MODEL WORKS

A live teacher, a real classroom and a shared plan

01

We understand your school

We discuss your students, curriculum, timetable and what you want the programme to achieve.

02

We agree the programme

Together, we decide on the subject, learning goals, group size, schedule and how progress will be reviewed.

03

We prepare the classroom

Teachwise prepares the remote teacher. The school provides a suitable classroom, working technology and an adult in the room to support students locally.

04

Teaching begins

The teacher leads live lessons, explains and models ideas, asks questions and responds to students' work during the session.

05

We review and adjust

We stay in contact with the school, share agreed feedback and adapt the programme as needed.

The students should be active participants in a live lesson, with opportunities to ask questions, discuss ideas and receive feedback as they work.

BEFORE TEACHING BEGINS

What we agree together

A school partnership works best when everyone knows what they are responsible for. Homework and individual feedback can be discussed as part of the programme where needed.

The programme

- Students and learning goals
- Teacher and timetable
- Group size
- How the programme will be reviewed

The classroom

- Role of the adult in the classroom
- Technology
- Attendance

Communication

- Feedback
- Communication between the school and Teachwise

Safety & information

- Arrangements for student safety
- Lesson recording
- Handling information

Tell us what your school is trying to offer

You do not need a finished programme brief to contact us. If your school is considering a new subject or enrichment programme, we can discuss a pilot with clear aims and agreed review points.

01
We read your enquiry

02
We arrange a conversation about your school

03
Together we decide whether Teachwise is a good fit

Joshua Howarth, Co-founder
joshua.h@teachwisetutoring.co.uk
WhatsApp +44 7506 183632

